Product FAQ's

Q Can I use this system with the Waste Safety Range?

A Yes. All parts interface so you can turn it into a safety station.

Q What is the topple angle of the Skipper Q?

A The topple angle of a leading belt barrier is still 35° but with the advanced design in our Q base, it has been reduced to 18° making it the safest available on the market.

Q Are they environmentally friendly?

A All parts are made from recycled material and themselves can be recycled.
