

Ergo-Q 160

The Ergo-Q 160 laptop stand provides you with the best possible support for your mobile screen work in an exclusive design.

The high-quality aluminium sandwich material in several layers makes it very stable and indestructible. A compact size, magnetic closure and a very lightweight make the laptop stand ideally suitable for mobile work. The Ergo-Q 160 is appropriate for almost any laptop size (up to 17 inches) and works also for tablets and mobile screens. A quick installation of your device is guaranteed, with five levels for the height-adjustment. From now on you will work in a healthier posture with the Ergo-Q 160 laptop stand and raise your laptop screen to the optimum height and viewing angle.

Ergonomic background

The laptop is not suitable for longer use without external equipment. If the laptop is used for more than two hours at a time, external devices are required to meet legal and best practice requirements. To be able to work comfortably and productively with a laptop for a long time, a laptop stand, an external mouse and an external keyboard are indispensable. If you use an external monitor and place the laptop screen at the same height, both can also be used as a dual screen.
